Who processes your information?

The Radclyffe School is the data controller of the personal information you provide to us. This means the school determines the purposes for which, and the manner in which, any personal data relating to students and their families is to be processed.

In some cases, your data will be outsourced to a third party processor; however, this will only be done with your consent, unless the law requires the school to share your data. Where the school outsources data to a third party processor, the same data protection standards that The Radclyffe School upholds are imposed on the processor.

Oldham Local Authority's Data Protection Officer will act as our Data Protection Officer. His/her role is to oversee and monitor the school's data protection procedures, and to ensure they are compliant with GDPR. The data protection officer can be contacted by email to DPO@oldham.gov.uk

How long is your data stored for?

Personal data relating to students at The Radclyffe School and their families is stored in line with the school's General Data Protection Regulations Policy.

In accordance with the GDPR, the school does not store personal data indefinitely; data is only stored for as long as is necessary to complete the task for which it was originally collected.

Will my information be shared?

The Radclyffe School is required to share students' data with the DfE on a statutory basis.

The National Pupil Database (NPD) is managed by the DfE and contains information about students in schools in England. The Radclyffe School is required by law to provide information about our students to the DfE as part of statutory data collections, such as the school census; some of this information is then stored in the NPD. The DfE may share information about our students from the NPD with third parties who promote the education or wellbeing of children in England by:

- Conducting research or analysis
- Producing statistics
- Providing information, advice or guidance

The DfE has robust processes in place to ensure the confidentiality of any data shared from the NPD is maintained.

The Radclyffe School will not share your personal information with any third parties without your consent, unless the law allows us to do so. The school routinely shares students' information with:

- Students' destinations upon leaving the school
- Local Authority
- DfE
- The NHS
- School Nurse
- Examination Awarding Bodies

When our students reach the age of 13, we also pass student information to the provider of youth support services (Positive steps) as they have responsibilities in relation to the education or training of 13-19 year olds under section 507B of the Education Act 1996. This enables them to provide the following services:

- Youth support service
- Careers advisors

A parent/carer can request that only their child's name, address and date of birth is passed to the LA or Positive Steps by informing school. This right is transferred to the student once they reach the age of 13

What are your rights?

Parents, carers and students have the following rights in relation to the processing of their personal data.

You have the right to:

- Be informed about how The Radclyffe School uses your personal data
- Request access to the personal data that The Radclyffe School holds
- Request that your personal data is amended if it is inaccurate or incomplete
- Request that your personal data is erased where there is no compelling reason for its continued processing

Where the processing of your data is based on your consent, you have the right to withdraw the consent at any time.

If you have a concern about the way The Radclyffe School is collecting or using your personal data, we request that you raise the concern with us in the first instance. Alternatively, you can contact the Information Commissioner's Office at <https://ico.org.uk/concerns/>
